

USA Today - Kerry Hannon

Finding 'Great Stocks' requires investor to do homework

We learn from hearing other people's stories. In Big Money: Seven Steps to Picking Great Stocks and Finding Financial Security, Frederick Kobrick's confidence and insight, honed from more than three decades as a leading mutual fund manager and investor, make his stories worth a good listen.

There are countless books on how to pick stocks, but Kobrick does more than tell you how to read an income statement or figure a price-earnings ratio. He tells you how he did it and shows specific companies in which he invested—successes and failures.

Read the complete article »